Anita Baham established Anita's Pecan Pralines in 2007. It all started when Anita set out to make some candy from a recipe in her collection. The sugar didn't dissolve properly, and the candy tasted like sand. "I didn't like the texture at all," she commented. Anita wasn't used to such kitchen failures so she created her own recipe.

The result was a wonderful success and the word got out. Orders started pouring in and Anita's Pecan Pralines went from a home kitchen hobby to a hot commodity. They are now sold in convenience stores, casinos, gift shops, restaurants, seafood markets, supermarkets and pharmacies on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Below, Anita shares a few comments about her experience with MSBDC services.

"I went to the Southern Mississippi Planning and Development District to apply for a business loan and was referred to Mitch McDowell with the Small Business Development Center. Mitch helped me get my cash flow projections completed and helped me write my business plan so that I could apply for a business loan. In addition, Mitch helped me identify specific ways that I can improve my business and operate it more profitably. I greatly appreciate Mitch's help and look forward to working with him in the future." --- Anita Baham
